CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.-We are glad to notify our subscribers on the W. & W. R. R. North of Goldsboro that the change of schedule on the W. C. R. R. which went into effect this morning enables them to receive the NEWS on the day of publication. For a week past it has been detained at Goldsboro for 23 hours.

FEDERAL COURT.-This court yeserday evening was engaged in considering the case of Ober & Sons, of Baltimore vs. Gen. Bryan Grimes, Office hours for delivering of mails from 8:30 a. m, to 6:30 p. m, of Beaufort, being a case involving the actual worth of fertilizers furnished by the Messrs. Ober. It is thought that several days will be consumed in the hearing of this

> In this court on Saturday the case of Salter vs. Wm. Johnston, of Littleton, was decided in favor of the former, involving the ownership of a nursery near Littleton.

> SUPREME COURT.-The Court met at the usual hour, all the Justices present. The third District was resumed and the following cases argued:

> B. M. Powell vs. J. B. Whitaker et al from Wayne, S. & S. for plain-tiff and Fairchild & Grainger. H. C. Hedges vs. Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, S. & S. for plain-Gregory, Galloway & Co. vs. J. J. Herring, from Lenoir. No Counsel for plaintiffs, Smith & Strong for de-

Craven County vs. Pamlico county from Lenoir. R. F. Lehman for plaintiff and Smith & Strong for defendant, 2 cases.

A FACT FOR RALEIGH .- Col. Pool is publishing two periodicals in Raleigh that cause an expenditure of over $7,000 among the business men of the place. Does Raleigh appreciate that fact. When it is known that only some nine business men, merchants included, are among the subscribers, the intelligent reader abroad will understand the significancy of the enquiry. Wilmington subscribes to over one hundred and sixty copies of OUR LIVING AND OUR DEAD, and receives none of the money that is expended in its publication. Raleigh business men receive over $7,000 from its publication and that of the Journal of Education, and subscribe in return to not over nine copies, both publications included. Very appreciative on the part of Raleigh!

Note this especially. There are more subscribers to the Magazine among the business men of Norfolk, Va., than among Raleigh business men. How is this? The most cultivated people in the State testify to the value and interest of the Magazine. There are as many subscribers, or more, among the business men of many villages than there are among our Raleigh business men, and yet Our Living and Our Dead is printed in our midst.

MEETING IN ST. MATTHEW'S Township .- A meeting was held in this township on Saturday last to take the proper preliminary steps for the representation of the township in the County Convention to be held in the city of Raleigh on the 26th inst., and for other purposes. Mr. G. W. Jones was called to the chair, and Mr. G. W. Upchurch was appointed Secretary. Cicero Williams and N. W. Poole were nominated by the meeting as candidates for Magistrates of the township, R. G. Buffalo for Clerk and Harry Sorrell for Censtable, for School Committee-men, Len. Watson, Henry Croom and Drewry Par-A committee was appointed to wait on Gen. Cox to request his presence before the meeting and address the same. Gen. Cox responded to the call and spoke in an effective and stirring manner. It was resolved as the sense of the meeting that every Conservative-Democrat or Republican in St. Matthews township opposed to the present Constitution, and in favor of making a North Carolina Constitution, be appointed delegates to the Convertion to be held in Raleigh on the 26th inst.

KILLED BY THE TRAIN .- A correspondent from Weldon writes that Monday afternoon two colored girls named Manly, sisters, aged respectively 10 and 14 years, were on their way home into the country from Weldon. They stopped on the W. & W. R. R., near the Fair Grounds, and being weary, sat down to rest. They soon fell asleep, and the 5:30 train coming along, ran over the younger, cutting off both her legs. She died about 8 o'clock. The other escaped unhurt.

A Fight and Death About Ten Dollars.

Captain John Dickerson, one of the conductors of the Seaboard and Roanoke railroad, gives us the particulars of a very bloody occurrence at Margarettsville, Northampton county, N. C., which took place on Saturday afternoon last. Two farmers, Rufus Davis and Jesse Banty, which is a street of Margarettsville, revived in a store at Margarettsville revived an old fued about a ten dollar error in a transaction about the sale of a crop. From hot words they came to blows, and Davis ran out of the store, followed by Banty flourishing a large bladed knife and exclaiming, "I'll kill you, damn you!" At this moment Davis drew a pistol and fired on Banty, killing him almost instantly. An inquest was held and Davis was arrested and committed to Northampton jail to await examination. The parties are not considered as standing very highly as citizens of the county.—Portsmouth Enterprise

From the Chicago Times. TORONTO, Ont., June 16 .- The great sale for short-horn cattle from the herds of Hon. M. H. Cocheam, Wm. Miller, and Simeon Beattie was one of the most notable ever held on this continent. The 5th Airdrie Duchess heifer, 6 months old, brought $18,000, and was sold to Avery & Murphy, Detroit, Mich. The 5th Duke of Hillhurt, 2 months old, brought $8,300. The 4th Louan of Stausendale, $2,850. Imported Surmise Duchess 10th, $2,400, to William Major & Sons. Surmise Duchess 10th, John R. Page, Sen-N. Y., $2,7.0, Princess of Oxford 4th, $3,000. Duches of Ruby, $3,000. Kirklevington Duchess Sth, $4,025; Kirklevanton Duchess 2d, $4,600. The total sales aggregated $4,600. $80.550; the average being $1,227, the prices being in gold. A BRAVE NEGRO.-Frank Smith was a negro murderer of Texas, and he was justly led to the gallows a few days ago, in Montague county. As always happens at Southern executions, an immense crowd was present when the negro was led up on the platform. He made a fervent prayer, and after it addressed the people. He confessed his crime and exhorted his hearers so fervently to avoid his errors that all were moved to tears. The sheriff put the noose around his neck, but the rough crowd, moved by the murderer's eloquence, surged around and upon the gallows, and demanded his release. I'he sheriff made an ineffectual attempt to clear the platform. The men were armed, and he was in their power. All at once the murderer, who was a Hercules in strength and stature, shouted, "Stand back. This is no time for a row, I am guilty. Let the law take its course. I am a man, and I can die like a man!" The res cuers shrank back appalled. The sheriff with a heavy heart, comple-ted his preparations; the trap was sprung, and the brave malefactor died without a struggle. Is there another instance in history where a man having life and liberty before him, threw them away to vindicate the majesty of the law which he himself had violated?

The grasshopper is an aggressiv insect, but as long as he confined his assaults to grain fields and vegetation he was not so much to be feared. Now, however, we hear of him in a new role, and one that is calculated to cause alarm to the people of Kansas and other sections where he is familiarly known. Not content to strip the fields of everything green, he is turning his attention to exploring the interior of the heads of some of the Grangers, probably with a view of learning whether they are suffi-ciently endowed with brains to circumvent them in their design of bringing starvation to this interesting class. In Humbolt two men were thus afflicted last week, the troublesome "hoppergrasses" ing into their ear and raising a high time generally, after affecting an entrance. They were both extracted, but not till after they had caused serious pain. The inhabitants of that region are now walking around with cotton in their ears.

GENERAL SHERMAN ON CONFED-ERATE GENERALS.—In a conversa-tion with an editorial writer on the St. Louis Times, in reply to an inquiry as to whom he regarded as the principle genius of the Confederacy in the Western field, General Sherman replied: "Oh, Joe Johnson. He was a cunning, subtle fellow. Al-bert Sidney Johnson was more of a Kentuckian, and had a fine, inspiring presence on the battle field. We felt in our lines, without knowing much about it, the effect of his death There was a lull in the battle. He had been killed, and Beauregard could not be found." He also he had met General Pat. Cleburne verywhere. He was just coming up to the prominence he deserved when he was killed. If there had been another year of Cleburne and the war, he would have left one of the greatest reputations in the South-

WINDMILLS IN HOLLAND .- Holland has 12,000 windmills in opera-tion, each doing a six or ten-horse power service through the twenty-four hours. They are kept up at an annual cost of $4,000,000, and perform all the service required of steam engines at one-twentieth the cost.

A man whose appearance indicated that he was staggering from the ex-cessive weight of brick in his hat, being asked if he was a Son of Temperance, replied, Hic no-no-no re-lation; not the least."

A London clergyman was once sent for in the middle of the night by one of the ladies of his congregation, "Well, my poor woman," said he. The Fifth Regiment, M. N. G., reached Baltimore yesterday after-agon, on its return from Boston. The reception of the regiment was a perfect ovation, the streets along the "so you are very ill, and require the consolation of religion; What can I do for you?" "No," replied the old lady; "I am only nervous, and can't sleep." "How can I help that?" entire line of march being densely thronged, and a large number of buildings decorated with flags and mottoes of welcome. After reaching the armory. Stricker Jenkins and Capt. W. H. Harcourt, of the Grand asked the parson. "Oh, sir, you always put me to sleep so nicely when I go to church, that I thought if you Army of the Republic, and then dismissed. All reports state the regiment behaved itself well and creditably, and reflected honor on Baltiwould only preach a little for me!' the parson hurried off. A clergyman being applied to in less than a year after his appointment to put a stove in the church, asked how long his predecessor had been there and when answered twelve years, he said: "Well, you never had a fire in the church during that time?" "No. sir." replied the applications. more and Maryland.—Ball. Gazette of Monday.

Not very long since the wife of the professor, Mrs. Agassiz, rose one morning and proceeded, according to custom, to put on her stockings and shoes. At a certain stage of this protime?" "No, sir," replied the applicant, "but we had fire in the pulpit then." cess a little scream attracted Mr.
Agassiz's attention, and not having yet risen, he leaned anxiously on his elbow, inquiring what was the matter. "Why, Professor, a little snake has just crawled out of my boot," said she. "Only one, my dear?" return-ed the professor, calmly lying down again; "there should have been three." He had put them there to keep them warm. Pleasant man to have in the house, particularly in one's sleeping room.—N. Y. Letter.

NOT A CROSS BEAR. - In the valley of Tajariau, in Siberia, two children, one four and the other six years old, rambled away from their friends, who were haymaking. At last they came to a bear lying on the grass, and without the slightest fear went up to him. He looked at them steadily without moving. At length they began playing with him, and mounted upon his back, which he submitted to with perfect good humor. The parents missing the truants were not long in reaching the spot, when to their dis-may, they beheld one child sitting on the bear's back and the other feeding him with fruit. They called quickly, when the youngsters ran to their friends, and Bruin, apparently not liking the interruption, went into the forest .- Atkinson's Siberia.

REPORTED OUTRAGE.-It is reported on apparently trust-worthy au-thority that a horrible outrage was pepetrated on Saturday evening last, near Suffolk, in Nansemond county, by a negro man, on the persons of two small white girls. They were passing along in the woods at the time he waylaid them and wrought his vile purpose on them. We learn that the black flend was apprehended and lodged in jail, and that the people were freely canvassing the proposition of hanging the miscreant without the benefit of judge and jury. The people, we learn, are not yet satisfied entirely as to the identity of the negro; but from what we can gather, when they make sure they have the right man, have but a short shrift and a long rope. Which will be exactly what he well descrees.—Index and Appeal.

How SHERMAN PLEDGED NEU-TRALITY BETWEEN THE NORTH AND SOUTH.—Colonel Wm. M. Levy, a prominent Louisiana politician and gallant Confederate soldier, who is known as a "wheel-horse of the De-mocracy" in that State, recently told a correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer that, of his personal knowledge, "General Sherman voluntarily, unequivocally and unconditionally pledged himself in the most binding manner not to fight on either side during the war. The day before the occasion I refer to, Col. Sherman, in company with myself and Gen. Bragg, while taking a drink at the St. Charles bar, made the same pledge in unmistakable terms. His strongest desire in parting was to leave an assurance that he had no enmity, and would not participate in the fight. It was an opinion among many that Sherman's policy was to retire until the thing was over, then return and resume his old place at the military school, which he could have done, as he was re-garded as a very valuable man for that position.

FOOD FOR LEAN WOMAN.-If any one wishes to grow fleshy, a pint of of milk taken before retiring at night will cover the scrawniest bones. Although now-a-days we see a great many fleshy families, yet there are many lean and lank ones who sigh for the fashionable measures o plumpness, and who would be vast ly improved in health and appear ance could their figure be rounded with good solid flesh. Nothing is more coveted by thin women than a full figure, and nothing else will so rouse the ire and provoke the scan-dal of one of the "clipper-builds" as the consciousness of plumpness in a rival. In cases of fever and summer complaint milk is now given with excellent results. The idea that milk is "ferverish" has exploded, and it is now the physician's grea reliance in bringing through typholo patients, or those in too low a state to be nourished by solid food. It is a great mistake to scrimp the milk pitcher. Take more milk and buy less meat. Look to your milkmen; have larged-sized, well filled milk pitchers on the table each meal, and you will have sound flesh and light WESTERN TOBACCO.-Planting prospects continue favorable, and further progress has been made in pitching the crop. It is estimated that at least four fifths of the Clarksville district has been planted, and perhaps two thirds of the lower Ohio counties. It would probably be safe to estimate that more than half the proposed area is planted in this State, as well as in the west at large. Unless there should be a change for the better, the Kentucky planting will be completed about as early as usual, the recent forcing weather having retrieved the time lost earlier in the season. The area, it is supposed, will be at least as large as in 1873.— Louisville Courier Journal.

tary survey recently in Lincolnshire, a man was found, aged 95 years, who had been in the habit of drinking a gallon of beer before breakfast, another during the day, and a few extra pints at night to top off with, and who had never been ill a day in his life. To cap this, the experience of William Lewis, who died while drinking a cup of ale in 1793, is quoted as still more remarkable. He read eight chapters in the Bible each day, and drank eight gallons of ale during the night. He weighed forty read eight chapters in the Bible each day, and drank eight gallons of ale during the night. He weighed forty stone, and was lowered into his grave by the crane which lifted him to his carriage.

THE COMMISSARIAT OF THE BODY.—The stomach is the commissariat of the physical system. It furnishes the natural sustenance of every organ. If disordered, the whole body languishes; but, however affected, its tone and vigor may always be restored by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Liters. The regularity in its operations which this grand tonic alterative estao lishes is the most direct means of obviating physical debility languishes of the blood and affections of the discharging organs. We know that if digestion or the habit of the body is obstructed, the entire physique is weakened in consequence of insufficient conversion of the food into blood; and it is equally ceriain that the refuse of the system not being wholly thrown off is sure to contaminate the vital fluid and surcharge the bowels and kidneys with vitfated matter which weakens and inflames them. The Bitters, by strengthening the organs of discharge, enables them to act vigorously, and thus il berates the pent up waste which would otherwise work incalculable injury.

Notice to Correspondents.

No letter can be published in these colnumbs which is not authenticated by the name of its author. This we require, not for publication, but as a guarantee of the good faith of correspondents. Persons who violate this rule will have their communications consigned to the was o-basket.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the cheapest paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year, postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

Our apologies are due to the Wilmington Journal for failing to give it credit for the suggestion of the commentaries of the News on "sable justice," for which the graphic account by the Journal of the examination of witnesses in the Jackson case furnished the text. We were more intent on pointing a moral than anything else, and were only recalled to the impropriety of our opinion by the gentle reminder of the Journal. We make the amende, and at the same time know we did not offend mortally since we see the Journal has transferred our article to its columns.

PRESIDENCY OF THE UNIVER-

We present in another column a communication from a valued friend and prominent gentleman, addressed to the Trustees of the University, urging upon them the name of Bishop Pearce of the Methodist Episcopal Church as an appropriate candidate for the office of Presidency of the University. The suggestion is a new one to us. but it is backed up by so much of solid argument, and presents such an array of high qualifications that the Trustees would be wise to give it grave consideration in anticipation of the final decision on the 31st of August.

In this, however, as with other names, we press no special claim or name, knowing that the Trustees themselves so much interested that they do not need the spurl of outside suggestion.

THE CUMBERLAND CENTEN-NIAL.

We had hoped to give our read ers a full account of this interesting celebration. Our correspondent, from pressure on his time writes briefly, that the Centennial passed off with eclat. The day was ushered in with the booming of cannon, which was kept up through the day at intervals of thirty minutes. The two splendid volunteer companies, the Independent Light Infantry, whose origin dates back almost as far as the formation of the Cumberland Association, (within 18 years of it) and the LaFavette Light Infantry, formed the military feature of the pageant. The Masons and Odd Fellows turned out in full force, in full regalia, and Fayetteville did full justice to the subject of her own peculiar honor and pride.

Our correspondent pays a handsome compliment to the very excellent silver cornet band which has few successful rivals in the State. and which by its stirring notes fired up enthusiasm to its highest pitch.

Appropriate and eloquent speeches were made by distinguished gentlemen of Fayetteville, and altogether the memory of the signers of the resolves of '75 was honored in a handsome and appropriate man-

THE USURY LAW.

We have adhered to our purpose to say nothing of the effects of this law of the last Legislature upon the business of the country, since, having become a law, no good would have followed farther opposition .-The people themselves must be the judges of the good or evil of that which they demanded. And it would not be safe to say that the present great scarcity of money is altogether due to the usury law. There are other potent causes at work to produce the same result. But there are many who think that the transfer of money to other States, and the limits the banks have put on their operations, are the direct consequences of the usury law, and see in the present scarcity of money

The Charlotte Democrat speaks out plainly, and we commend its verted into praise through the woncandid statement of views. Says that journal

"The usury law has done the busness portion of our people (farmers, perchants and mechanics) more harm than is supposed by those who listen to the arguments of dema-gognes who prefend that they are in favor of cheap money, but who wring every cent from their debtors they possibly can. We say this as a mony-borrower and not as a money-ender. We want no office, and ould not accept one if every man in Mecklenburg county was to vote or us, but we intend always to express an opinion on public schemes and measures where the people generally are interested

BUNKER HILL'S LESSON.

We cannot do better than to appropriate the following excellent remarks of the Richmond Enquirer upon the subject of the grand meeting of reconciliation of the 17th inst. The general sentiment must be, that more has been gained towards the restoration of perfect understanding between the North and the South by this gathering than could have been possibly attained in any other way. Men of the two sections were brought face to face with each other, not on the battle field as before, but on the spot sacred to the memories of a common cause, and the wall of hate and prejudice fell down instantly.

When the stony heart of Boston is softened, it is not difficult to say what will follow. The day of perfect harmony, as between the sections is near at hand, and the work of persecution and oppression of the South draws to its close.

Says the Enquirer :

"To read the signs of the times aright is a matter of vital significance to the journalist, the historian and the legislator. We are at present passing through a most momentous era in this country, a year of jubilee, full of suggestive signs. The public mind, responsive to patriotic inspirations, runs through the record of a hundred years and from the great present looks back at once proudly and inquiringly upon the pregnant past. Just now all eves are turned towards Bunker Hill. Press and people, bards and bishops, lawmakers and philosophers, are busily engaged in glorifying the great centennial celebration at Boston and striving to crystalize it into effective lessons. It is however chiefly upon the press of our country that the great duty devolves of giving a fitting expression to the deep under-currents of public sentiment and of telling beneath every roof-tree in the land how the stery of patriotic devotion in the past finds its sacred sequel in the fraternal reconciliations of the present. Rounded like a benignant dream of glory comes to the completion of one hundred years. How changed Boston in all its aspects !- how changed the country from one extremity to the other, since Breed's Hill gave to Bunker Hill its fame! Speaking of the day (June 17, 1775,) John Adams once said : "They will hereafter celebrate it with thanksgiving, with bonfires, and with illuminations." Such was the manner in which it was celebrated on Thursday. But there was a significance in this celebration which Adams never dreamed of. Beneath the shadows of the grand memorial column and amid the startling evidences of a century's advance were Southerners and Northerners, who for a time had been hostile to each other, but now anxious to bury all evidences of hostility and to stand together, shoulder to shoulder, as of old. All the omens were auspicious. The earth was arrayed in its brightest colors the sea sent up its sparkling wavelets of approval, and the glorious sovereign of day smiled down benignantly. And now that it is over, every newspaper in the land is filled with accounts of the glorious celebration, or with happy auguries for the forty millions-heirs to the heroes who fell at Boston one hundred years ago. Nor is this all. From beyond the seas come clear impressions of the lesson of the day. Says the London Times : "Not only

America, but England and the world have reason to hold in grateful remembrance the day. It was a gain on all sides; for the great unquestionable principles of popular representation, self-government by popular minicipal institutions, the independence of judges and complete responsibility in the exercise of power were equally at stake on both sides of the Atlantic." How different this language from that of the English press when the announcement of the fight in Boston was first made in the fast anchored isle. The hostility which then existed between the mother country and the old Thirteen Colonies has effectually died out, and

and the consequent distress of the the rebellion which King George so people, the direct fruits of this bitterly opposed is now regarded as a blessing to both lands. Thus we see how the wrath of man is condrous councils of an over-ruling Providence. "God stands net, though he seems to stand aloof."-Though past finding out His ways are always best.

In the light of English public opinion to-day as to the merits and consequences of the revolutionary war, cannot the magnanimous people of this country construe with equal wisdom the centennial lessons now pressed upon their attention? These lessons mean, if they mean anything, an immediate abandonment of the old leaven of hostility and the substitution therefor of peace, good will and reconciliation. Let them be carefully and patriotically pondered. Not without reasons have we had our quarrelsquarrels pregnant with ultimate good-and not without still stronger reasons are the great claims of fraternity now urged and prayers for the perpetuity of the Union offered in all sections of the land."

For the Daily News. NOTES OF TRAVEL.

Scenes at Niagara Falls-The "Banditti" of Hacks and Hotels-Niaga. ra River-Buffalo Mautactures, the Source of her Future Greatness,

BUFFALO, N. Y., 1875 Dear News: - When one reaches Niagra by moonlight, the proper thing to do is to visit the falls, and see the bewildering rush of waters, in the truly poetical way. This we did, most faithfully; first the rapids, then the view from the suspension Bridge, but the night was unfayorable and the result, disappointment. But it is hardly necessary to say that a long and quiet look at all the wonders that constitute this treasury of sights, fully and completely satis

Your corespondent will commit no ch folly as the attempt to describe. We followed the usual round of visits to the Rapids near the whirlpool, the Devil's Cave Table Rock, Goat Island, Luna Island and the Three Sisters. From the tower of the Museum on the Canadian side, the view is exceedingly beautiful. The immense masses of ice at the foot of the American and the Middle Fall added to the picturesque. It is very rare that such mountains of ice re main to the very confines of June. The descent to the brink of the Rapids is a very novel sensation, but as one rides in the comfortable parlor of an elevator, not the least of the heroic can be found to expatiate upon it is very different from the toilsome flights of steps leading from box to box down that giddy height, that nany of your readers were familiar with twenty years ago. Here and there, on the banks hung the Aquilezia Canadensis (the red columbine of our gardens) and the Ribes, or flowering currant. Violets were blooming in some places, through the rifts of rock, and on the way to the Devil's Cave, countless heads of podophyllum were peeping The larger vegetation is that of the country we have seen, except perhaps more of Arbor Vitte and Hemlock Spruce; occasionally we saw the Canadian White Yew. We did not neglect the opportunity to admire each other in oil clot waterproof suits, and thus equipped, to go under the sheet of falling water Termination Ledge. Our lady friend making the last trin with the guide, outstripped the party in dar-On inquiring of this sagacious individual, we were assured that it was a way that the ladies had of doing-"they always beats the gen-tlemen, sir." I mentally doffed my hat to this great student of human

It seemed to your correspondent that the peril at this point had always been greatly exaggerated, but it may have been that the supreme beauty of the scene intoxicated the judgment for the time being.

The rainbow on Luna Island, just at one's feet; the romantic loveliness of the Three Sisters, just putting on fresh gems for the coming summer the gliding current of waters; the toss and tumble of the Rapids above not unlike angry cross seas on the Atlantic; the soft and tranquil charm of the distant river, and the curling spray and deep roar of the Horse Shoe Fall-these were elements of in finite variety, and the most exceeding enjoyableness. There is something that wins upon you, deepens and solemnizes all your thoughts, and talk vanishes before the high priest of reflection, which is silence.

He must be strongly constituted who does not love this most mighty of nature's wonders, more humble and reverent of spirit toward its

Maker. There is something hateful in the way that man has surrounded this scene with his petty fences, and gates and bars, and his wretched improve-ments. The Indians are gone, but the Ishmaelites are here forever. When one studies the backmen and the showmen, he understands what a personage of unsavory repute just ans, or ought to mean, by a "Moral Niagara," These fellows are enemies to the human race, and probably only two men in the ry appreciate their art-the North arolina warrior who reconstructed Alabama, and the statesmen of Gloucester who has at least one eye firmly fixed upon us ever since the

The full fledged waiter at the hotels here, is a phenomenon too. Un-like a certain Carolinian politician, he has a vast deal more respect, "for a judge than a constable, or for a general than a corporal." The man of Barnum's on the Fifth Avenue pales into significance. One longs for a little of Miss Scott's inimitable genius in sketching, to carry home a portion of so much dignity, for the "archives of gravity." Nothing but a bride or a bishop can accelerate his step, and yet alas, for our faith n human nature, and my never-tobe shaken and undying confidence n the man and brother, we saw the last orange on the dish, deftly vanish into his pocket, as slowly and sadly we left him alone in his glory!

Eheu! Jam satis. Nightfall approaches, and as we have work in the morning, we re-sume our course for Buffalo. For a ong distance, the track leads by the river, long and silvery reaches of it gleaming under the setting sun.— Nothing we had ever read seemed to do justice to this beautiful stream, forgotten as it were, in the near by presence of the great wonder. The little town of Tonawanda is passed. and now the landscape looks a bit from Belgium, as a friend tells us, Long level grassy plains, meet white fences, Lombardy poplars, fat and lowing kine abound. Yonder is the village churchyard, and the groups f friends visiting the graves of departed, at sunset a broad fence and still, and this side a wilderness of crosses, indicating perhaps that the sleepers there professed another faith, or one may be the Potter's field the resting place of the poor and un-

The Teutonic type prevails here among the people; this appearance, manners, dress, and speech all betray We have had an illustration this eyening. The Doctor irresistably attracts strangers, of high and low degree, and it was not long before we heard this good simple hearted, hon-est faced Wespthalian pouring forth his story, how he came to offend his friends, in the old combat of Catholic against Protestant, and emigrated across the great ocean, and had made his home in America. The train stops and the good German leaves for his home. Pointing to a specimen of humanity I will not describe, lest it may seem to be ridicule of a woman which this pen shall not be guil-ty of, he struck his breast in triumph, and cried to us in a bright smile, "Dat is mine vrau-nopody else git Even a hearty laugh at what would have been a funny spectacle was lost in ones admiration of a greathearted love-surely pure love may sanctify and adorn the most rugged, the most wretched being in the

Buffalo is in sight, and we skirt the suburbs for miles—passing her nu-merous manufacturing establishments, and the great trains from the West. Surely all the freight trains we have ever seen in our lives seems standing in review. Now we pierce the girdle of poverty and wretchednes which surrounds all large cities, and we have fairly en-tered this great metropolis of Westtered this great metropolis of ern New York, the third city in the Empire State, with a population of one hundred and sixty thousand

Resting at the Tift House, and finding ourselves too late for evening services to night, we look from the balcony along the brilliant avenue, light with gas lamps, the many col-ored lights of the passing street cars, and the thousand and one passing sights of a large city.

Buffalo is well and handsomely built, her streets admirably wel managed, and in general there is a fine air of thrift and prosperity.

Great as is her grain trade from the lakes, upon which her early growth was largely built, she is now making more gigantic strides by her new and vast manufacturing interest. From a single window, one can count eighty tall chimneys of factories. The city very wisely purchased large interests in Pennsylvania coal mines, and with cheap coal brought direct in her own cars and with cheap raw material, her manfacturers are rapidly building a metropolis of great magnitude. How like a dream to see such wealth and magnificence, where even the few log houses that sat on this spot, were arned only sixty-four years ago, and the entire place has been erected in the lifetime of many of our citi-

Watching the passing crowds below, there is a curious thing that strikes a Southerner. There go the gentlemen by themselves, and here come the ladies equily independent of the other sex. How few are walking, arm in arm, in our way at night Here are two gentlemen, talking politics perhaps, and there a coup of ladies, evidently of the same group as earnestly talking of dress-no, be not uncharitable to thy neighborthey are no doubt discussing mis sionary prospects, and the last tidings from Borrioboola Gha. There goes a young and pretty girl, winging her prayer book and and marching wi h military tread, through this great city, at a late bour of the night, all alone, and the number is legion, who do the same. In the morning we met our coureous friend Mr. Warren of the Buffalo Courier, and manager of the new Asylum here, and Prof. Ordroneax, whom we left at Utica. * * *

For the Daily News. To the Trustees of the University of North Carolina. Every man who has been educated at Chapel Hill feels a deep interest in the Institution, and it is of the last importance to its success to select a suitable President. Your honorable body has within a few days past selected a corps of Professors altogether acceptable to the public, and now the question is who shall be President of ne College. There is a gentleman of fine educa-

on, of liberal views, a therough scholar, an eminent man in all the qualities which can adorn and dignify the most enlighted intellect in the Southern States, born and reared in the South, his beart and mind have at all times been exerted for the amelioration of the down trodden condition of his Southern brethren, and to-day he stands forth from his pulpit every time he preaches as the exponent of the principles of Southern independence, and the leader of Southern views among a denomination of Christians so large, so imposing, as to induce the Northern members of that Ecclesiastical estab lishment to seek a reunion of the two wings of the Methodist Episcopal Church. That man is George Pearce, Bishop of the Methodist Church, South. As a pulpit orator no man surpasses him since the days of Massillon, the French Divine; as a scholar his equal is not be found in the Southern States. His genial temper, his noble countenance, his gentlemanly demeanor, unaffected piety, all have had a tendency to draw the young men of the country to him. Wherever he is seen crowds of young people float around him to catch the words of encouragement and hope which his brilliant conversation imparts. His travels from the Atlantic to the Pacific in the past four years, and his letters published giving an account of that fabulous country on the Pacific slop have made him the most popular narrative writer in the United States. Let it be known in Georgia, Alabama Mississippi, Louisana, California Minnesota, Oregon, any and all of those new worlds that have sprung into existence that Bishop Pearce is President of the University of North Carolina and his name will bring 200 students more to renorate Alma Mater than any man in America. Pearce has a national reputation that but few men ever had and will bring to his aid all that element of christian virtue and sobriety which as a people has always charcterized the eminently religious denomir ation of which John and Charles Wesley were the pioneers and Coke and Asbury in this country their active coadju ors.

"Late last night we heard it rumored that the Batton brothers, James Thomas and Albert, had confessed he murder of their father on the Gum Swamp Road, in Princess Anne The following are the particulars, as far as we could learn: "It seems that after Mr. Batton and the younger son, Watkins, left iome for this city, the two brothers started and overtook them at the spot where the horse was found tied to the nce, and upon getting along side, heir father; then dismounting they fiinished him with blows, adminis tered with some heavy instrument. In the meantime the younger rother recognizing the assassins aped from the wagon and endeavoed to escape, but was halted by the murderers under the threat of instant leath, and with a pistol to his head was forced to take an oath, promising that upon being questioned he would swear that the attack was made by a party of negroes who prung from the woods by which the spot was surrounded. They then nade him start for the neighbors houses, for assistance, while they made the best use of their time to es cape. ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CON-SERVATIVE CENT'L Ex. Com., RALEIGH, June 1st. '75. To the People of North Carolina:

The General Assembly at its re-cent session called a Convention of the people to meet at Raleigh on the 6th day of September next, for the purpose of suggesting such alterations in our organic law as may be deemed wise and expedient. NECESSITY FOR CHANGE.

The necessity for changing many of the provisions of the existing Con-stitution is generally admitted, and is too apparent to require extended argument. It is true that some of our prominent men at one time oppose the call for a convention; but their action was based on prudential consideration, and not on an indisposi-tion to have the Constitution thoroughly revised. They feared that our purpose in seeking to reform our Fundamental Law, might be mis-construed by the violent and illinformed men then controlling Congress, and the prosperity of our peo-ple checked, and the peace of the State jeopardized by some barsh and unconstitutional action on the part of the United States authorities. That fear no longer exists. We now have every assurance that the Constitution of the United States will be observed by the officers of the Government, and feel a satisfaction in announcing to you that the time has at last arrived when the officials at Washington City concede that the people of North Carolina have the same right to manage their local concerns which the citizens of other States enjoy. We can proceed with-out apprehension to perfect our Con-stitution and remodel it in the interests of our people.

may be left to inference or construc-

ple. Indeed its provisions are so loosely worded and so badly arranged as to constitute but a medley of inconsistencies that defies the successful construction of the courts; in fact, to reconcile the difficulties arising from its practical workings, the court has in some instances been driven to supply omissions, and in others to introduce a new principle, hitherto unknown in the juridical history of our State, distinguished as "judicial legslation," an innovation anti-republican in character and invasive of the rights and duties of a separate department. Its provisions are so obscure that within the brief space of its ex-istence many more decisions on constitutional questions have been demanded than in the entire previous nistory of the State-and of late we

In many counties, there is a practical denial of justice, the courts are inadequate to the public demands, and thus they are driven to resort to special terms, which are expensive and unsatisfactory, and persons accused of criminal offenses are often confined for months without trial.

We need a speedier justice and a less expensive judiciary system. We should abolish every useless office, which is now filled by a mere cousu-

mer; for only by a rigid and prudent economy in our public as well as private affairs, can we hope to restore the State to prosperity. It is believed that the laws will be more impartially administered by a return to the old practice of a rotation of the Judges.

THE CONSTITUTION, THE CREATURE OF MILITARY LAW. This Constitution, the creature of Military dictation, was born in the throes of a Military reconstruction. Its authors were mainly Sciolists and adventurers, who had lived among us without preferment, or possessed of qualifictions entitling them to it; others were our recent slaves, who had known no law save the will of their masters, and others still were carpet-baggers, both black among the statutes of various States and white-alten in feeling and Radical in education-who sought previous to the war.

positions here that were denied them where known-to despoil and humiliate us. And when their work was submitted to the people at the polls, thousands of our best citizens were deprived of the right of voting upon it, and over eighty thousand ignorant negroes were given the ballot to secure its adoption. It is no exaggeration to say that not one person in ten who voted for it could read the instrument, and not one in fifty had read it or was even moderately familiar with its provisions, and many gave it their support beleiving it would be merely temporary, and to escape further agitation and revolution. It is natural therefore that a Constitution thus formed and adopted should be found unsuitedt o our condition, and that we should embrace the earliest opportunity consistent with reason and prudence to secure such changes as time and experience have shown to be necessary. Our organic law should be expressed in language clear, simple and perspicuous, so that nothing tion; our rights, so precisely defined as to be comprehended by all men of ordinary intelligence; and each de-partment of the government should be so restricted, that while left free to discharge its appropriate duties, it cannot by unwarranted encroachments embarrass the proper action of THE CONSTITUTION UNSUITED TO OUR CONDITION.
That the Constitution contains some good provisions no one denies; it would be singular if it did not, but its abominable characteristics were so manifest that not a single Conservative member of the Convention that passed it could be induced to affix his signature to it, as a fit instrument to be submitted to the peo-

> NECESSITY OF ORGANIZATION. The friends of Convention should at once perfect their organization and oring out their best men in every Connty in the State. J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is MISTAKEN for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with LOSS OF APPETITE and sickness, bowels in general COSTIVE, sometimes alternating with lax. The HEAD is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable LOSS OF MEMORY, accompanied with painful sensation of having LEFT UNDONE something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, DEBILITY, and low spirits. Sometimes MANY of the above symtoms attend the disease, and at other times very FEW of them; but the LIVER is generally the organ most involved.

Nearly all diseases originate from Indigetion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relie is aiways anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Chills, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It sets mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its being the purest and best.

Most of our private legislation should be ex-cluded from the General Assembly. However, our limited space does not permit us to catalogue the numerous defects and imperfections of the prescomend to the memler; of the Demoent constitution or to enumerate the cratic Conservative | arty to discourage independent candidates and all other disorganizers, that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose There should be some general ordinance adopted in relation to private enactments, thereby reducing the expenses of the Legislature, and in order to prevent hasty and inconsiderlegislation that no new

Of the two methods prescribed for changing the Constitution, that by legislative enactment is expensive, uncertain and dangerous; the several amendments recently submitted to and ratified by the people encoun-tered the greatest difficulties in their passage, and even after the will of the eople was declared in their favor by over 40,000 majority, serious appreensions were entertained whether they were properly adopted; again, legislators when possessed of qualifications for such duties, are encombered with numerous matters, and cannot bring that attention to each provision presented for consid-eration, without meeting such criticisms as may imperil their labors. The Convention method is speedy and economical, the body is posed only of the same number of members as comprise the House of Representatives, and their minds are lirected alone to constitutional reforms and their work may be completed and ratified, if necessary, in ix months. As to the expenses that may be incurred, it is believed they will be more than defrayed in a short time by the reforms that will be inaugurated. The restrictions imposed by the Legislature, fully and amply secure the Homestead, Mechanics Lien, Rights of married women, and Presonal Liberty, and should quiet the fears of the most timid, for they are recognized as of binding efficacy and are chiefly enjoyed by the friends of constitutional reform. Indeed they were incorporated in the bill mainly to remove partizan clamor, and antic ipate unscrupulous agitation. They are not the property of a mere party, but had their origin in the necesistie of civilized society and were found

QUALIFICATIONS OF DELEGATES. It is useless, however, to seek to quiet the mere caviller; the keen op-tics of some persons defy all law.— The mere fact that the honor of the best men in the State is pledged to their preservation, should satis-fy every reasonable voter. This Convention is called in pursuance of law, and each delegate be-fore "he shall be permitted to sit, to be entitled to a seat in said Convention or act as a delegate thereto. shall swear to observe these "restric tions" (see acts 1874-5). Should a part comply and part refuse to take this oath, only those who obey the law are members of the body, nor are we without precedents; similar oath was required of the members of the "re-stricted Convention" of 1835, the same question was raised, and after debate all the members took the oath and observed the restrictions, and that in time of high party excitement. In that discussion the distinguised Judge Gaston used the following language 'The State Legislature had indeed no authority to impose an oath upon the members of the Convention, but the people had ratifled the act of the people had ratified the act of the Legislature by choosing delegates under it. therein prescribed, we are not the Convention called by the people, but a self constituted body;" these views were concurred in by Macon, Ed-wards, Morehead, and others. We will dismiss this subject, however, by calling attention to the able work of Judge Jamieson on "Constitution-al Conventions," where, by argument and the cases cited by him in relation to this matter, he demonstrated that Conventions are bound to obey the islature in the Act calling the Convention. In our last election it was gratifying to see Republicans who had hith-erto submitted to the control of unscrupulous leaders under a mistaken belief that they were promoting the general welfare, seeing their corruptness as demonstrated by the "Credit Mobilier revelations," "Sanborn Contracts" and other frauds and defalcations, and their vindictive and relentless policy, whereby they sought to degrade the superfor race by this iniquitous "Civil Rights Bill," overcome their party prejudice and give us their cordial support. To them we extend an invitation to remain and continue the work so auspiciously begun. To those who opposed us under the de-lusion of their leaders, who assured them this bill would never pass Congress and if it did would be vetoed y the President, though it now has s signature; and who have witnessed the earnestness with which the dangerous "Force Bill" was urged upon Congress, we say no longer remain where there is neither safety nor honor to a North Carolinian. The bat-tle for civil liberty is not yet over. "Civil Rights" is still a part of the secret carpet-bag programme for this State; though driven from the halls of Congress, it will be renewed in the Southern States. We there Convention owes its final success to the support of some of their ablest the regular nominees of our Conven-tions. Let your primary county Con-ventions be duly advertised and see in subsequent results. The Repubilcan party, under the leadership of carpet-baggers still remaining among us, will advocate the election of delegates, who will agree to meet and adjourn without holding a Convention and this in violation of the wishes of the people, expressed through a two-thirds majority of their chosen Rep-resentatives, and after a considerable end will fail to submit their work to the people for ratification or rejec-Let us, therefore, present a united front, and with a general advance along our lines Radicalism will not only be routed but overwhelmed, and victory for Civil Liberty assured for 1876

Anniversary of the Pope's Cerona tion, Congratulations, &c.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Pope received several deputations yester-day who came to tender their congratulations on the anniversary of his coronation. The holy father replied that he was greatly consoled in his affliction by the marvellously increasing devotion and affection manifested towards the church throughout the Catholic world. He dismissed as not worthy of mention the rumors of a reconciliation between the Holy See and Italian kingdom. The municipal elections were held yesterday. NEW YORK, June 22nd.-Wm. M. Tweed's friends say that he is to be released from the Penitentiary morning. It is expected that he will be taken to the District Attorney's office and thence to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, where bail in criminal action under which bench warrant was recently issued will be fixed. If he gives the required bail he will probably be arrested by the Sheriff on order of arrest granted in civil suit for six million dollars. Mr. Tweed's counsel may however, move in the Supreme Court chambers today for the release of their client or for a reduction of three million dollars bail named in the order of ar-

Wm. Tweed this morning appeared in the Court House in the custody of deputy Sheriff McGauigle. All the newspapers have been represented on Blackwells Island for a week past and representatives had many promises made them that Tweed would leave the Penitentiary, with their full knowledge. Notwithstanding this, he was smoothed first ing this, he was smuggled off the Island at ten o'clock last night, and brought to the city, where, according to the Deputy Sheriff, he drove to his home in a carriage. It was generally expected that he would be brought into court to-day, and consequently, large numbers of people gathered in the immediate vicinity of the Court House for the purpose of getting a sight of him. This morning he went to his office in Duane street, and spent some time in con-sultation with his counsel, after which he proceeded to the District Attorney's office accompanied by his son Wm. M. Tweed, Jr., and his private Secretary, Foster Dewey. In the Supreme Court chambers one of his counsel Mr., Willard Bartlett presented to Judge Davis the following order which was signed by him: At a special term of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, held at of the State of New York, need at new county Court House in the city of New York, on the 22nd day of June, 1875, present Hon. fore Judge Brady.
Air. Foster Dewey was the first one of the Tweed party to enter. He had hardly taken his seat when Tweed entered in charge of Deputy Sheriff. He walked rapidly across the room and took his seat beside his counsel. In a very short time the court room was packed with people, and immense numbers were clamoring for admittance. After order had peen restored District Attorney Phelps arose and addressing the Court, moved that the defendant, Wm. Tweed, be arraigned to plead an indictment found against him in November 1873. Mr. David Dudley Field arose, and on behalf of Mr. Tweed stated they were not ready to plead or make a motion to quash that they had only received notice of this indictment a few days since, and therefore time ought to be allowed hem to examine into matters. Mr. Peckham, on behalf of the people. stated that it was evident the defendant intended to pursue his old tactics, and stave off all proceedings as long as possible. Mr. Field dis-claimed any such intention, and stated that in law, time ought to be allowed him to examine the indictments; and further, that if they were forced to enter the plea, they would demand the right to withdraw at any time; that it was a shame and cruel-1873, and then two years afterwards call them up without warning to plead to it. The counsel further stated that if they were forced to plead by the decision of the court he would ask that the right be given them to move to quash indictment after plea was entered. A legal war of words followed, which lasted for nearly an hour, Messrs. Phelps and Peckham on behalf of the people claiming that such a thing was unheard of in law except in special ases unlike the present one, there was no reason why this case should be made a special one or special favor be shown to defendant. At this point Mr. Field arose and denanded to know what special favors have been shown or would be. "My client," said he, "has for seven months been confined in the peni-tentiary and when after committing this outrage, an outrage for which every one concerned in it shall be
